September 2025 Performance Update

B CHF	EUR	113.67
B EUR	CHF	123.42
B USD	USD	140.26
Fund AuM ¹	USD	13 m
Firm AuM ¹	USD	222 m

The fund primarily invests in value creators with an attractive expected return profile. Up to 30% can be invested in sector themes with attractive risk reward. Hedging techniques will be used to preserve capital when appropriate.

The portfolio ended September with a 2.9% gain. The S&P 500 (EUR) returned +3.3%, MSCI World (EUR) +2.5%, Nasdaq 100 (EUR) +5.1%, while the Stoxx 50 advanced +3.4%.

The S&P 500 and Nasdaq recorded their fifth and sixth consecutive monthly gains, respectively. Strong economic data, resilient consumer spending, and improved clarity on tariff policy underpinned the positive sentiment. The Fed began its rate-cutting cycle at last with a 25-bps reduction. In Europe, central banks appear close to the end of their easing phase, with the ECB leaving rates unchanged. Political developments were less encouraging, as the new French Prime Minister faces the challenge of a 5.5% deficit-to-GDP ratio. In the UK, long-term borrowing costs rose to their highest levels since 1998.

On the corporate side, September brought notable news. The Alphabet antitrust case concluded favourably. Alphabet must open search results to competitors and avoid exclusivity contracts that establish default status. Crucially, no divestment of Chrome or Android was required, which markets welcomed. We maintain, however, that a forced breakup could have ultimately benefited shareholders as well. Oracle's shares surged 30% following its earnings release and a sharp increase in revenue performance obligations (+359% to USD 455bn). ChatGPT was named as a major revenue catalyst, but we remain sceptical: Oracle's future revenues imply equivalent costs for ChatGPT, and it is too early to determine whether it can pull ahead in a capital-intensive, competitive field.

Tactical positions delivered a solid contribution this month. Intel added 45 bps after announcing a collaboration with Nvidia. We believe its strategic importance will secure long-term support from the Trump administration, a similar setup to Boeing a few quarters ago. The China basket ended the month at a > 8% portfolio weight given strong performance.

The upcoming reporting season in October will offer further insights into both growth dynamics and FX effects. Investors are also focused on Salesforce's Dreamforce event on October 14th, where Salesforce must convince market participants that artificial intelligence represents opportunity rather than threat. We exited our direct position and instead maintain exposure through near-the-money call options. Our private equity and credit holdings remain a drag on the portfolio; however, long-term expected returns far outweigh the short-term noise and news flow. Top contributors were TSLA (97 bps), GOOG (91 bps) and ASML (85 bps). Detractors were AMRZ (-29 bps), OWL (-24 bps) and ADYEN (-19 bps).

The Firm AuM refers to the total capital managed by LIMMAT CAPITAL Alternative Investments AG across its products but excluding any capital flows on the first day of the following month. All AuM figures are expressed in millions of US-Dollars (USD) and any capital invested in share classes whose currency is not USD is converted at the relevant foreign exchange rate effective at 4 pm GMT on the last business day of the month. 2. There can be no assurance that the results achieved by the Fund's past investments will be achieved in the future. Past performance should not be relied upon as an indication of future results. An investment in the Fund involves significant risks, including loss of the entire investment.
3. Comparisons to the MSCI World (the "index") are for illustrative purposes only and are not meant to imply that the Fund's returns or volatility will be similar to the index. The Fund is compared to the index because it is widely used as performance benchmarks; however, the Investment Manager does not manage the portfolio to approximate the performance of the index. The index is comprised of securities which for the most part are dissimilar to the positions that would be held directly by the Fund and do not have the same or similar risk/return or volatility profile to that of the Fund.
4. The investment manager discontinued the hedging policy in 2023, pre 2023 returns are calculated in local currency as a reflection of the true economic exposure.
5. New team and modified strategy with increased long-bias starting October 1st, 2021. LCEU was previously a long-short strategy with HFRXEH Index as the relevant benchmark. Performance returns are calculated net of expenses, performance fees (15% p.a.) and management fees (1.5% p.a.). The returns shown include returns generated by reinvested proceeds. If such returns were not included, the returns would be lower.
6. Figures as per end of month based on FactSet Consensus and Bloomberg.
